POSTER! #4 PRESS

FINALLY SOMETHING TO DO ON TUESDAY

Anyone who thinks they can come to Stockholm for two days and then just leave are probably the same people that drive Ford Taurus's back home. We tried to leave after spending $24 for a Meat Pie and a Coopers on Australia Day but ended up with a new set of parents, a bunch of seriously good looking friends, 'Hi Jo!' and at least one visit behind the scenes at various happenings. Did we really get on the door for Eagles Of Death Metal as Jacob Snavelli + 1 and end up in the back of a tattoo parlour dressed as stuffed birds?

The kids from Göteborg are cool but Malmö, where are you? Knock! Knock! Hello??? Our only visitors were a Fabulous set of Diamonds and an Elk sausage. Thanks for coming, we are Poster Press!

ps: I'm in love with Miriam from Wildbirds and Peacedrums

COVER PHOTOGRAPHER ROBERT NILSSON

I met Robert Nilsson for the first time a few years ago in Australia where he was studying photography. These days his knowledge and experience back the reason for his massive tripod. Happy birthday mate, all the best!

This is the sweetest skate photography book I've seen in a long while. It documents stockholm's skateboarding scene throughout the 90's. Shot in black and white, this journey back in time by the highly talented Jens Andersson is sure to make you want to dust off your old skateboard and take it for a roll.

PETER MURPHY'S CARVER COMBO
ONE SIN BETWEEN ME & THE LORD
Was just thinking about a little Gypsy i once knew.
He walked on to the stage of an underground childrens theatre here in Stockholm. With his crooked teeth, old brown shoes and Swedish suit, Peter Murphy's Carver Combo smiled and played some tracks that reminded me of a Gypsy i once new... Petrova, how are you my dear?

THOSE DANCING DAYS IN OUR SPACE HERO SUITS

Remember when you were in love with a girl so much that you could fold a piece of paper into an amazing device that you'd put your fingers into, count a few times and then open the flap to reveal your future together? Whatever... you know exactly what i'm talking about! Anyway you might want to skip track six if you lost your girl to the guy who was better than you at sports.
